

Latest News From The Editor

Dear Subscribers and advertisers ,

You will have read in the last issue of Taiwan Mission Quarterly (Volume 15 Number 4) that there are a number of changes coming to TMQ. With the Barnard's retiring there is no longer the staff available to oversee four issues a year. As a result the executive committee has decided that in future we will aim to produce two editions a year. This means that we will be changing the name of the magazine to 'Taiwan Mission Magazine' and aiming to produce a Spring and Fall issue.

The annual subscription fees will be adjusted to allow for the reduced number of editions. For current subscribers we will adjust your subscriptions accordingly so that you will receive the number of editions you have already paid for. A similar adjustment will be made for existing advertisers.

Barry Owen has been acting as Editor since Thelma Lang retired last year and will be handing over to myself for the 2007 editions.

We hope that you will continue to support Taiwan Mission Magazine and as an editorial committee will continue to work hard to ensure we include content relevant and challenging to the Taiwan Missions community and others interested in missions in Taiwan.

Your in Christ,

David Eastwood
